

Glounthaune Parish Newsletter – 4th December 2016

#RealChristmas: Samaritans responds to more than 5.4 million calls for help every year and these don't stop over the festive season. So this December, the suicide prevention charity is urging us all to stop striving for a "perfect Christmas" and have a #RealChristmas instead. The campaign aims to show people that it's okay not to feel merry over the holidays and to encourage us all to be honest about our feelings and listen to one another. According to Samaritans, thousands of us will find it hard to have a happy Christmas. Log on to the Samaritans website to avail of a free guide to having a #RealChristmas. The guide gives tips on how to be a good listener, what to do when someone doesn't want to talk and how to look after yourself as well as supporting others this Christmas. Samaritans isn't saying don't have a good Christmas this year, but try to put aside the demands of the season and focus on the support you may need or can give. By giving the gift of listening and taking time to understand what's really going on in our own and others' lives, more people will open up this Christmas and ask for the support they need. Difficult feelings don't discriminate. They don't care if it's December or June. So, away from the idyllic images and all the hype around the season's celebrations, let's get real about how we can save lives, not just at Christmas but all year round. And that's by listening to how a person who may be having a tough time really thinks and feels.

Christmas Cuppa with our neighbours
You are invited to meet with our neighbours from Ashbourne House & enjoy a cuppa & Christmas treats in the church centre at 10.30am on Tuesday 13th December.

Our last meet and greet was a great success with stories shared, lots of laughs, phone numbers exchanged & friendships formed.

We remember in our prayers

Ciara Casey, Pepperell, M.A., USA whose funeral took place on Thursday. We extend our sympathy to her husband Donal, daughters Treasa, Gráinne & Roisín, her mother & father in law Donal & Peg Casey & family, Thornberry & Fr Paddy.

May she rest in peace.

'A Christmas Chorus'

City Hall Wed 7th December at 7.30pm

Enable Ireland present "A Christmas Chorus" in the City Hall on Wed 7th December at 7.30pm. Six Primary School choirs and 1 adult choir will perform in what promises to be a wonderful evening of Christmas Carols and Songs. The Monophonics Children's choir and The Sonatinas adult choir, both local to the Glounthaune/Glanmire area will be 2 of the participating choirs. Tickets available in the Enable Ireland Shops on Oliver Plunkett St. and North Main St. and in the Lavanagh Centre, Ballintemple (021-4294423). Compere on the night is Red FM's KC. All proceeds go to Enable Ireland Children's Services in Cork.

Southern Steam 2017 Calendar on sale in the parish office. €10 each. All proceeds to Pieta House. A stunning piece, beautifully photographed and for an excellent cause.

Society of St. Vincent de Paul

Christmas would be a non-event in many homes in this parish without the help of St. Vincent de Paul. We cannot give this help without the support of the generous people of Glounthaune parish. You allow us to assist with grocery vouchers, fuel and education expenses throughout the year. For this we are so thankful.

Our Christmas collection this year will take place on December 10th and 11th. On behalf of the families you help we thank you most sincerely.

Christmas Mass Bouquets

We have beautiful Christmas Mass Bouquets available in the parish office and in the church sacristies. €2 each with proceeds going towards the work of Aid to the Church in Need in Syria and Bishop John Ryan's charity in Malawi. The front of the cards feature pictures of our three parish churches with a nativity scene and "Christmas greetings from Glounthaune". The inside of the cards tell recipients that their intentions will be remembered in a Triduum of Masses in our parish on Christmas day.

Nelson Mandela gave an interview in 1990, shortly after his release from prison on Robben Island. Twenty seven years in difficult prison conditions had made him a wiser man. When the interviewer asked him if he hated those who had deprived him of his freedom for twenty seven years, he said, 'if I hated them, I would still be in prison.' He allowed no one to take away his freedom to forgive and seek peace. In his book, which he called The Long Walk to Freedom, he relates how he made good use of his time in prison. During his years in jail he studied with great care the prison guards and all those who operated the prison system. He learned their way of looking at life, their interests, their passionate love for rugby and their strong political convictions. So, when the time came to negotiate for peace and an end to the era of apartheid, he had a strong negotiating hand. He had gained insight into those whom many of his people regarded as 'the enemy', he understood their strengths and their fears, he knew how to respect them and how to challenge them. Eventually he persuaded them to become part of the long walk to freedom. The journey towards greater freedom to understand, freedom to forgive and be reconciled, freedom to have profound respect for others, is a journey that will continue long after his passing. The season of Advent is a timely reminder that the long walk to freedom is our journey too.
